

The official 1975 Bicentennial Medal.

*By authority of the Congress of the United States,
the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration issues the official 1975 Bicentennial Medal.*

The Medal. In silver or bronze. Honors Paul Revere and his legendary midnight ride to Lexington, April 18, 1775.

The reverse honors the Minutemen, those who fell at Lexington Common on the morning of April 19, 1775. The first American casualties of "the shot heard round the world."

*By authority of the Congress of the United States,
the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration issues the official 1975 Bicentennial Medal and Stamp Commemorative.*

The Medal. In bronze. Honoring Paul Revere and his legendary midnight ride to Lexington, April 18, 1775.

Also honoring the Minutemen, like the seven who fell at Lexington Common on the morning of April 19, 1775. The first American casualties of "the shot heard round the world."

The Stamps. Commemorating the 200th anniversary of the formation of the Armed Forces of the United States. Each stamp will visualize the original uniform of each branch of service.

